CHINO-JAPANESE SITUATION GRAVE; TROOPS GATHER TO DEFEND PEKING

(Special to the Hawaii Shingo.)
TOKIO, Japan, May 5.—At the close of a cabinet session which lasted until midnight, the Japanese government early today cabled instructions to Minister Hiroki, the Japanese representative at Peking, to warn all Japanese residents in China to leave for home at once.
An ultimatum will be delivered to China today.
Instead of the 24 articles contained in the last "irreducible minimum," it is understood to contain 48 articles, but their nature and the time limit within which it is required that China make answer are not known.

NEW SCHOFIELD TARGET RANGE PUT INTO USE

[Special Star-Bulletin Correspondence]
SCHOFIELD BARRACKS, May 5.—The new echelon target range was put into use today for the first time. Troops A, B, E, F, I and K of the Fourth Cavalry and Companies I, K, L and M of the First Infantry started at the short ranges. The First Battalion of the Twenty-fifth Infantry will join the others tomorrow if they have progressed enough to make room for more.
By the use of this new range, eighteen men can fire at each distance at the same time and when the range is completed, this number will be increased to forty.
It is hoped that this year the percentage of qualified riflemen will be much higher than usual on account of the new facilities for instruction.

DEATH SUMMONS MRS. CORNWELL

[Special Star-Bulletin Correspondence]
WAILUKU, May 3.—Mrs. James Cornwell of Wailuku passed away at about half an hour after midnight. She gave birth to a baby last evening. Her death is a great shock to a host of her friends scattered all over Maui and the Territory.
Mrs. Cornwell was born at Wailuku June 15, 1875, of Harry and Caroline Beers. In early womanhood she married James Cornwell, and in all had thirteen children, including the baby that was born last night. Eight of these are now living. Her oldest children are Harvey, who is the agent for the inter-island at MacGregor's Landing, and working in the law office of E. R. Beers in Wailuku, and Adele, who was in the Priory at Honolulu last year, but lately has been unable to attend school because of poor health. She underwent an operation in Honolulu recently for appendicitis. Juanita is the next oldest, and there are five younger children living.
Mrs. Cornwell has been an ideal wife and faithful mother. She has done exceedingly well by her children and has attempted to secure for them all the best education possible. She was a prominent member of the Wailuku Church, where she was a constant attendant and a generous giver of her time and substance.
Wh. H. Beers, county attorney of Hawaii, is her brother. She has also two sisters that survive her: Mrs. Sam Kanaokani of Honolulu and Mrs. Ed A. Namohala of Hilo. With the latter lives her aged mother, Mrs. Beers.
All the relatives were today notified by wireless of the sudden death, and it is expected that they will arrive on Monday's Mauna Kea or Tuesday's Claudine for the funeral, which takes place at the home tomorrow morning at 8 o'clock.

ENGLISH MONEY GOES TO GERMAN WAR FUND

[Associated Press]
AMSTERDAM.—A number of prominent Englishmen, including Sir Edward Goschen, former British Ambassador to Berlin, have unwittingly become purchasers of some of the latest German war loan bonds.
The men in question were members of the Berlin Golf Club, which just before the war raised by subscription among its members a cash fund of about $65,000, for constructing and equipping a splendid new course near Potsdam. Pending the beginning of operations, the fund was on deposit with the Dresdener Bank of Berlin when war was declared. The money was sequestered and now has been invested by order of its trustees in German war loan securities.

TEN THOUSAND BUSINESS MEN ARE EXPECTED

Annual Convention of Associated Advertising Clubs Will Set New Record This Year

It is expected that over 10,000 business men will attend the eleventh annual convention of the Associated Advertising Clubs of the World which will be held in Chicago June 20 to 24, according to the following communication received by H. H. Strange of Honolulu, manager of the Honolulu Gas Company.
To accommodate this crowd the convention will be held in the Auditorium Theater, while the various departmental meetings, such as retail advertisers, general advertisers, newspapers, business papers, magazines, etc., will be held in the Auditorium Hotel on the lake front.

The program committee is making every effort to get the best men in their line to address these departmental meetings, so that those attending them may have an opportunity of becoming acquainted with methods and policies which have proven most successful. Steps have also been taken to encourage informative addresses, and it is expected that these departmental meetings will prove to be a gigantic experience meeting of a kind never before attempted.
In addition to the business side of the convention an unusual program has been prepared in the way of entertainment. A street pageant which will take two hours to pass a given point will be held Monday evening. On Tuesday and Wednesday evenings an advertising show will be staged at the Auditorium Theater. There will be lake excursions, auto trips for the ladies, and a dozen other worth-while features of that kind. It is expected that President Wilson or some other nationally prominent man will deliver the opening address, and all indications are that this convention will be the greatest so far held.

When the Associated Advertising Clubs of the World adopted its famous "Truth" slogan and declaration of principles at Baltimore two years ago, few took them seriously. Business men frankly admitted that the whole output of advertising blinged on its believability, but laughed at the idea of an organization of advertising men ever bringing about such an Utopian condition. Yet in less than two years we have seen the perfection of the National Commission, through which a higher code of business ethics has been established in the varied departments of advertising work.

But in spite of all that has been accomplished, there are still business men who fail to appreciate the change which is going on about them. Many persons may not have noticed any great change in the nature of advertising, yet a change has taken place just the same. Baltimore and Toronto have left their imprint. So shall the coming convention at Chicago.

"When I lay down the gavel in Chicago this June," said President Woodhead recently to the Advertising Association of Chicago, "I will leave for my successor the nucleus of a business organization. Through this organization it will be possible to cash in on that fine spirit of enthusiasm built up by my predecessors, and complete the task which we have set for ourselves."

This business organization makes it possible for the Associated Advertising Clubs of the World to enforce the conditions it may impose thus providing the machinery for raising business standards. Because of this newly created machinery the advertising convention at Chicago this June should mark a new epoch in business progress.

PULLMAN CHIEF SAYS TIPPING IS OUT OF FASHION

[Associated Press by Fed. Wireless.]
WASHINGTON, D. C., May 5.—Testifying here before the federal commission on industrial relations, Robert T. Lincoln, president of the Pullman Company and a son of the Emancipator, gave it as his belief yesterday that the system must go under which negro porters employed on the sleeping and parlor cars of the company are paid small wages and left to eke out their livelihood by the generosity of the public.
Tipping, he said, had become antiquated and was going out of favor. He promised to recommend to his directors that a new wage-scale be formulated for both Pullman porters and conductors.

VENTURA PURSER ADMITS HELPING SMUGGLE GEMS

[Associated Press by Fed. Wireless.]
SAN FRANCISCO, Cal., May 5.—All that F. V. F. Baker, purser of the Oceanic liner Ventura, got for helping attempt to smuggle in jewelry valued at $18,500 was a tip of $35. Baker admitted today when arraigned that he had suggested to Mrs. B. J. Francis of Sydney who owned the jewelry, how she might evade the customs officers. When she attempted to put his advice into effect, on the arrival of the Ventura here May 1, the jewels were discovered and she was arrested. Baker's arrest followed shortly after.

AN EASY WAY TO GET FAT AND BE STRONG

The trouble with most thin folks who wish to gain weight is that they insist on drugging their stomachs or stuffing it with greasy foods; rubbing on useless "flesh creams," or following some foolish physical culture stunt while the real cause of thinness goes untouched. You cannot get fat until your digestive tract assimilates the food you eat.

Thanks to a remarkable new scientific discovery, it is now possible to combine into simple form the very elements needed by the digestive organs to help them convert food into rich, fat-laden blood. This masterstroke of modern chemistry is called Sargol and has been termed the greatest of flesh-builders. Sargol acts through its regenerative, reconstructive powers to coax the stomach and intestines to literally soak up the fattening elements of your food and pass them into the blood, where they are carried to every starved, broken-down cell and tissue of your body. You can readily picture the result when this amazing transformation has taken place and you notice how your cheeks fill out, hollows about your neck, shoulders and bust disappear and you take on from 10 to 20 pounds of solid, healthy flesh. Sargol is absolutely harmless, inexpensive and efficient.

Caution.—While Sargol has given excellent results in overcoming nervous dyspepsia and general stomach troubles it should not be taken by those who do not wish to gain ten pounds or more.

ADMIRAL MOORE AND 'UNCLE JOE' FRIENDS FOR MANY LONG YEARS

"Uncle Joe" Cannon and Rear Admiral C. B. T. Moore, who have renewed acquaintance in Honolulu these last few days, have been friends for many years. In fact, the veteran congressman, who will celebrate the seventy-ninth anniversary of his birth on Friday of this week, had much to do with having "Charley" Moore sent to the Naval Academy at Annapolis 42 years ago, and according to their reminiscences it came about this way:
Admiral Moore's father was Brigadier General J. H. Moore, known as the "fighting preacher" during the civil war. General Moore was Mr. Cannon's predecessor in the house of representatives, from the district which Mr. Cannon now represents, which at that time included Decatur, Ill., the former home of the Moore family.

When "Young Cannon" was elected to succeed General Moore in 1872 the latter asked Mr. Cannon to have his son, the present admiral, appointed to Annapolis. "Why don't you do it yourself?" asked Mr. Cannon.
But no, General Moore was conscientious. Appointing his own son to the naval academy savored of nepotism, he thought. Mr. Cannon argued with the general that it would be foolish to keep the young man out of Annapolis for a whole year merely because of such a scruple.

"I told the general I would gladly appoint his boy when I took office," said Mr. Cannon yesterday, "but that he was foolish to keep the boy out so long for such a reason, and I finally prevailed upon him to appoint his son. You see now the wisdom of the step," said "Uncle Joe," waving his cigar toward the admiral.
"The boy" whose appointment the young congressman secured is now 62 years of age, and will soon be retired, and the "young congressman" is almost 80 years of age, as years are reckoned.
"Here we meet again, after more than 40 years," said Mr. Cannon. "This is well named the 'Crossroads of the Pacific.'"
